TO PRESERVE THE HUNT

by Bunny Beeson

If hunters are going to preserve hunting, they must recreate it as the disciplined, mindful, sacred activity it once was for our species. They will also need to help redeem the culture in which they have grown and which finds fun at the expense of others. Also, there is a need for hunting as management of ecosystems as they have been fragmented and changed drastically by human activity.

This is the job for hunters, an ongoing task to define appropriate behavior between person and person. We must learn communication skills. I am a hunter and I would say that this definition will have much to do with the notions of kindness, compassion, and the sympathy for those other species with whom we share this web of life and upon whom we depend for sustenance, the very notions and I might add restrain that informs of the lives of many hunting people in past times.

A return to old principles of mutual regard between species will be a profound undertaking, for it is based on the pre-Christian believe that other life forms, indeed the very plants and earth and air themselves, are invested with soul and spirit. If we must take of those spirits, it can only be done for good reason; then only if accompanied with constant reverence and humility for the sacrifices that have been made. Whether we are hunters or not hunters, meat eaters or vegetarians, this state of heart and mind compels us to say an eternal grace.

Fur, Fin, and Feather Hunts & Sponsorship

Every year Wildlife Action sends numerous pioneers(children) to our camps through a system of sponsorships given by businesses and individuals. This year we were able to give over $13,000 dollars worth to deserving children. If it were not for this program, many of our pioneers would not have been able to attend. For some, this is a life changing event. They are given the opportunity to see life unplugged from technology and get back to basics. Our staff works tirelessly to expose these young minds to the beauty and lessons of God's Backyard. Each donor should be so proud to be a part of that. Take the time to look at the faces from camp in this Wildlife Pride Magazine and hear the stories of growth as these kids reconnected to nature, the Good Lord, and themselves through Wildlife Action.

We are continuing this mission through our youth fishing and hunt programs called Fur, Fin and Feather to expose more pioneers to these same lessons. Some again need your help! Wildlife Action keeps cost as low as we can and our fine partners do the same so that as many youth as possible can participate in these events. For this reason, we are asking individuals, organizations, and businesses to please support our right to fish and hunt and keep this important lesson alive in the hearts of the next generation. Won't you or your company consider sponsoring a pioneer to come on a hunt this season? We have the children with the heart and desire to be outside, they just need the help to go.

We are also in need of equipment such as rod & reels, bows, firearms, ammunition, skeet, camouflage clothing, blinds, deerstands and the like to provide to those children who do not have their own. Please use this tax donation for the good of children from all over the Southeast and for the love of fishing, hunting and the great outdoors. The rewards will be seen in the faces and minds of our next generation of leaders. Please contact us at (843)464-0635 or wlvped@bellsouth.net with any questions that you may have or to reserve your spot to hunt. Thank you for your support!

Camp Staff E-mails and Letters

Mr. Frank,

I just wanted to write you and say thank you for giving me the opportunity to work this summer! It has easily been the funnest summer I've ever had! It's really opened my eyes and I have learned to appreciate things so much more! Thank you so much and hopefully I'll get this same opportunity again next year!

Holden Gasque – Senior Counselor
Mullins, South Carolina

Frank,

I would like to tell you thank you for this summer and thank you for the opportunity to fill in a big role in this summer camp system. I love Wildlife Action and I don't know where I would be without it. Nobody there is my friend, they're family and I love every single one of them to death. Wildlife Action truly changed my life and I'm so thankful for that and the opportunities you have given me through it. The friendships and memories are the best pay I could ask for. I never thought I'd get emotional over camp but I'm honestly going to miss it and everyone who has come through the system this year. Strength and honor.

Josh Owens – Senior Counselor
Aynor, South Carolina

Hey Mr. Frank,

I wanted to let you know that this year was one of the best years of camp I've ever experienced! Personally I think we had a great staff even though there were a few bumps in the road, I felt more comfortable around the staff we had this year than I ever have before. I also want to let you know that I tried my best to improve on my mistakes I've had in the past. I want to say thank you for letting me come again this year and for showing me and letting me have a big leadership role in both overnight camps I was at. Wildlife Action camp is what I look forward to every year! It's the main part of my summer and it's bitter sweet that it's already over with! Thank you for everything you have done for me, showed me, and taught me the past 6 years I have been coming to camp from being a camper, to a tribe leader, and a ruff rider!

Matthew Huffman – Senior Counselor
Washington, Georgia

Dear Wildlife Action,

These past two summers have been the best I've ever had all thanks to WLA. When I came during my first day camp I remember being rather nervous about how everything was going to turn out, but that didn't last long. As soon as I stepped foot onto Fork Retch Wildlife Refuge I was greeted with smiling faces. And as time past I didn't just make friends, I became part of a family. And that wasn't just me, I've seen some kids who have never been to camp before come feeling just how I did, but by the end of the week they are begging to come back next year! And the amazing thing is that we have such a variety of kids that come to our camps, I've seen some kids who can fish like crazy and some who've never seen a hook before, but at the end of the day everyone gets along and end up making best friends. It's an amazing thing to see. And I'd just like to say thank you, to all of Wildlife Action, for allowing me to be a part of such an amazing organization, for letting me help spread the word about conservation to the next generation, for letting me see the excitement in a kids eye after they hit their first bulls eye, and for letting me be a part of the Wildlife Action family. I cannot wait to be back for another great summer at WLA!
